Preface

For nearly seventy years Statistics Canada has offered the public a catalogue of its publications. Over the years the catalogue has grown to cover other forms of statistical products and services. Now for the first time, the 1990 edition describes mapping services and microdata files with new sections to present this material.

Past users of the catalogue will note the expanded index now contains geographical coverage and some commodity detail and is offered in two parts: author/title and subject.

Publications described are those in print as of March 30, 1990. Publications discontinued since the last edition of this catalogue are indicated. Out-of-print 1986 Census publications are also included.

Comments or questions are welcome and can be directed to:

HOW TO USE THIS CATALOGUE

A description of publications, both serial and occasional, constitutes the major part of this catalogue. Each description contains a brief summary of the publication as well as all pertinent technical details, including price.

Following the section on publication descriptions, the catalogue features information on microdata files available to the public. These files consist of responses to surveys and are assembled on magnetic tape so users can create their own tabulations.

Mapping services have been added to the map section which has been renamed Geography Products and Services. Geography Division has assembled the section and provides all products and services directly. They can also be ordered through Statistics Canada Regional Reference Centres (see Appendix C for a listing of these centres).

Anyone wishing information on data formats other than those offered in the catalogue, such as CANSIM, should consult Appendix A, "CANSIM and Other Data Formats".

Anyone wishing information on reference material can consult "How to Get More Help", Appendix B, for a list of directories, classification and guides. Appendix B also provides sources of the most recent or historic statistics.

Featured in Appendix C is a list of the libraries holding Statistics Canada publications, Regional Reference Centres, and bookstores who sell the publications.

To order products and services, see the instructions at the end of the catalogue.

Entries are organized according to a five-digit numbering system unique to Statistics Canada. This numbering system, designed to provide easy identification, is formulated as follows:

The first digit refers to one of eight major subject groups:

- 1 General and Reference
- 2 Primary Industries
- 3&4 Manufacturing

- 5 Transportation, Communications and Utilities
- 6 Commerce, Construction, Finance and Prices
- 7 Employment, Unemployment and Labour Income
- 8 Education, Culture, Health and Welfare
- 9 Census and Intercensal Studies

The second digit refers to sub-groups within the major group, each specific to a major group.

The third digit indicates the frequency of publication:

- 0 Issued more than once a year
- 2 Issued annually
- 4 Issued biennially
- 5 Issued once only or on an occasional basis
- 6 Issued irregularly with various sub-titles
- 1&9 Reserved for census publications

A change in the frequency of a publication automatically results in a change in the third digit of its catalogue number. However, there are some exceptions; the Statistics Canada Library has detailed notes available for consultation.

The fourth and fifth digits constitute the sequential numbers issued to every publication within the subgroup to ensure its unique, permanent number.

Where the suffix "E" or "F" is added, separate English and French editions are issued.

The catalogue number for Air Carrier Traffic at Canadian Airports, for example, is 51-005, which represents the following information:

- 51 Designates the major group of which this publication is a member: Transportation, Communication and Utilities and the sub-group: Air Transport,
- 0 means it is issued more than once a year,
- 05 signals this as the fifth publication in the group to receive a catalogue number.

Canada's young family home-owners : a family studies teaching kit. 1 portfolio (11 pieces). 1986. E.

DDC 306.8/5/0971.

These are families headed by parents, born during the "baby boom", the period that saw a jump in the national birth rate following World War II. The "boomers" form a population group substantially larger than those before and after them and created special needs as they moved from infancy to adulthood. In the 1980s, many of them head young families and this kit looks at how and where they live and assesses their current impact on society. This kit includes: a set of 9 two-colour transparencies, a topically related census publication, illustrated student worksheets.

Living alone: a family studies teaching kit. 1 portfolio (12 pieces). 1986. E. and F.

DDC 305/.90652/0971.

A single male university graduate and an elderly widow who didn't finish high school are two types of Canadians very likely to live alone. But they are not the only ones. Single-person households have been growing steadily in number since 1956, with a sharp increase from 1971 to 1981. This kit details where our singles live, their educational background, the type of accommodation they occupy and their incomes. This kit includes: a set of 10 two-colour transparencies, a topically related census publication, illustrated student worksheets.

The elderly in Canada: a family studies teaching kit. 1 portfolio (14 pieces). 1986. E. and F.

From 1971 to 1981, the population aged 65 and over grew by 35% while the country's total population increased just 13%. The trend toward a higher proportion of seniors promises to continue well into the next century, making new demands on our society. Canada's Ione-parent families: a family studies teaching kit. 1 portfolio (9 pieces). 1986. E. and F. DDC 306.8/56/0971.

The number of single-parent families has been increasing steadily since 1966. Proportionally, more children than ever before are being raised in such households. These families are most likely to have lower incomes and to spend more than the recommended portion of income on shelter. Where these families live, how their incomes compare with those of other Canadians and the types of housing they occupy are examined. This kit includes: a set of 7 two-colour transparencies, a topically related census publication, illustrated student worksheets.

ISBN 0-660-12956-6.

DDC 338/.02/012.

This classification describes the industrial structure of the Canadian economy in terms of the principal activities of establishments. It follows the traditional sectoring of the economy into extraction, e.g. agriculture and mining; transformation, e.g. manufacturing; and services, e.g. transportation, communication and other services. It has a four-tiered structure in which 861 industries are delineated at the four-digit level. It is designed for statistical application to facilitate the collection and compilation of comparable data series related to production.

ISBN 0-660-12492-0.

DDC 382/.0971/0012.

Commencing January 1, 1988, Canadian exporters or their agents will be required to assign an export Harmonized System (H.S.) number to all export transactions. This publication which lists all possible export H.S. codes and their accompanying descriptions is therefore an essential tool in the preparation of customs export documentation. To assist in coding, the publication's introduction includes, among other things, an outline of the classification structure, an overview of the classification of goods, and the general rules for the interpretation of the Harmonized System.

This publication is a further step in Statistics Canada's initiative to promote the understanding and use of key economic series published by the organization. For the first time, all components of the Canadian System of National Accounts are defined and discussed under one cover. The report covers some principal national accounting tenets and embraces input-output, income and expenditure, financial flows, national balance sheets, balance of payments and the international investment position as well as the key concepts of each component. This publication also devotes a chapter on certain classic issues, and possible extensions and modifications to the System and some more recent concerns about the System of National Accounts. This book is intended for use by those working in the field as a general reference guide, and for outside users as an introduction to the availability and contents of the Canadian System of National Accounts.

SNA INDUSTRY AND COMMODITY STATISTICS

Publications with a catalogue number prefix 15 contain industry and/or commodity information which has been integrated within the System of National Accounts (SNA). SNA publications which are not industry and/or commodity oriented are published under catalogue number prefix 13. SNA industry and commodity groupings may differ from other Statistics Canada official classifications such as the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC). These differences ensure that SNA variables are defined consistently over time and across SNA industry and commodity classifications. In addition, integration of source data within the SNA framework ensures consistency in statistical terms. Nevertheless, SNA industry and commodity definitions are uniquely defined in terms of the other official classification structures.

This publication contains input-output tables for the period 1961 to 1981 which are the results of the latest historical revision of the various accounts which form the Canadian System of National Accounts (CSNA). It also provides the final estimates of Gross Domestic Product at factor cost by industry which establishes the contribution of each industry to the total value of production in the economy. These input-output tables constitute a data bank on the production and distribution activity of all industries in Canada which is integrated to the CSNA through the input-output accounting framework. They show who is producing what (distinguishing roughly 200 industries and 600 commodities), who is buying what (intermediate purchases by producers for the production of other commodities or final purchases by producers for the production of other commodities or final purchases by sector) and how much it costs to produce them in material, labour and capital. The introductory chapters cover the following subjects: the input-output accounting framework, the classification system, some special definitions used in the input-output tables, the sources and methods, the aggregation parameters, gross domestic product, some uses and interpretations of the tables and the input-output models used for impact analysis.

Demographic and income statistics for postal areas. Annual. First issue 1987. Bilingual.

ISSN 0840-8491.

DDC 339.2/2/0971.

This annual publication brings together various demographic and socio-economic characteristics of tax filers for more than 7,000 postal areas across Canada. Its primary objective is to provide key socio-economic indicators for a number of uses such as marketing, direct mailing, social service planning, regional analysis, provincial and municipal planning, etc. Among the 30 different characteristics provided are the age and sex of tax filers, a distribution of tax filers by level of income, the median income and how it compares to the income reported five years earlier. In addition, each of the 7,000 postal area's median income is compared to the provincial and Canadian figures. This reference manual also includes a special appendix which provides a cross-reference of postal codes, thus facilitating the identification of place names. Also featured is a special highlights section which takes a close look at some of the major trends that have taken place at the national, provincial and regional levels in 1988. This publication is available in five versions: Canada (17-202); Atlantic provinces (17-203); Quebec (17-204); Ontario (17-205) and Western provinces and the Territories (17-206).

Developing a longitudinal database on businesses in the Canadian economy: an approach to the study of employment / Statistics Canada, Business Microdata Integration and Analysis. 127 p. 28 cm. 1988. E. and F.

This publication outlines how a database on employment by size of firm was created, discusses its current status and potential, and analyses the pitfalls in using it to make assertions about our current knowledge of the role of small business in the dynamics of job creation. The database, created by linking data from survey and administrative sources, is presented in a set of tabulations for 1978 and 1984 and for changes between these two years. The tabulations focus on the labour used by businesses and the data are disaggregated by size of business, life status of the business (continuous, newly identified or no longer identified) and country of control. They are tabulated by industry and by province.

Revisions to the treatment of imputed house rents in the Canadian farm accounts, 1926-1979 / Mike Trant. (Working paper no. 10). 30 p. 28 cm. 1986. E. and

This publication explains revisions in the treatment of farm house expenses. These revisions were incorporated in the farm income estimates in May 1979. The revisions involved two major changes, the first being the elimination of imputed house rent from the farm accounts and the second being the subtraction, from farm business expenses, of those costs associated with the personal use of farm dwellings. The revisions are explained through a presentation of the background regarding the logic and concepts originally used for handling farm house expenses in the accounts and through the identification of the conceptual problems inherent in the original method. This is followed by a detailed description of the revisions to the treatment of the farm expenses associated with the farm house.

The Census of Manufactures consists of twenty industry group publications. Each of these industry group publications is comprised of a number of two-page bulletins which are released in advance of the annual summary release. The approximately 230 bulletins are identified by the general publication number and a Standard Industrial Classification number.

For example, 32-250B SIC 1011, The Food Industry: Meat and meat products industry (except poultry).

The bulletins each contain three tables which provide principal operating statistics such as financial and employment data for each individual component of the industry group. These data are also aggregated for the industry group and published as a table in the group publication. In addition, the group publication contains commodity input and output data for the industry group. Users have the option of purchasing individual bulletins containing information about a specific industry or alternatively the information can be purchased as a complete set for the industry group. Note: All industry group bulletins have been discontinued.

Institutions assembling collections of Statistics Canada publications should note that each set of bulletins plus each industry group publication assembled together constitutes one publication and should be treated as such.

All publications from the Census of Manufactures end with either -250, -251 or -252.

GENERAL SURVEYS

31-001

Monthly survey of manufacturing. Monthly. First issue, Feb. 1947. Bilingual. ISSN 0840-8238.

DDC 338.4/767/0971.

This publication provides estimated values of manufacturers' shipments, inventories and orders by month, based on a sample of about 11,500 establishments. Data are presented by major groups and selected individual industries as defined by the 1980 Standard Industrial Classification as well as aggregates for durable, non-durable and total manufacturing. Principal series are shown with and without adjustment for seasonal variation. Unadjusted shipment totals by province and by major groups within provinces are also shown. These data are used to monitor the business cycle in the key manufacturing sector of the economy; to evaluate and develop financial and industrial policy; and to provide market data at the detailed industry level.

Capacity utilization rates in Canadian manufacturing. Quarterly. First issue, 3rd quarter 1976. Bilingual.

ISSN 0700-1517

DDC 338.4/567/0971.

This publication contains a series of quarterly statistical estimates of capacity utilization rates for the manufacturing sector in Canada. Capacity utilization measures, being a comparison of actual with capacity production, can facilitate the analysis of production, investment and prices. Capacity utilization rates are calculated for the Canadian manufacturing sector by major group, according to the 1980 Standard Industrial Classification, as well as for durable, non-durable and total manufacturing aggregates. The publication contains estimates of capacity utilization for the five most recent years; quarterly for the two most recent years and annual estimates for the other three years.

Air carrier traffic at Canadian airports. Quarterly. First issue 1976. Bilingual.

ISSN 0701-7928.

DDC 387.7/36/0971.

This publication presents statistics on airline traffic such as the volume of flights, passengers and cargo, at Canadian airports. Data on Canadian and foreign airlines' regional and local scheduled services have been added to complement the data previously published on the major scheduled services and major charter services. Civil aircraft movements statistics are also shown, thus, providing the overall perspective of aircraft movements at major Canadian airports. The publication presents several summary tables which have been grouped into sections dealing with overall or specialized views of the airline industry. An analysis of the significant changes which have occurred in the survey period will be provided, by type of service. Annual summary data are included in the fourth quarter issue.

Sales per selling area of independent retailers. First issue 1986. Last issue 1986. Bilingual. Discontinued. ISSN 0835-4960.

DDC 381/.1/0971.

The report provides data on independent retailers including space utilization (in sales/square foot and sales/square metre), sales volume, physical size and location of store. Data for a full range of 38 different kinds of business (KOB) are provided at the Canada level. A narrower KOB range is provided at the provincial level of detail. Five store location types are shown: on-street, neighbourhood shopping centre, community shopping centre, regional shopping centre and indoor shopping mall. Four tables are depicted: tables A and B show how the intensity with which space is used varies with the level of sales; tables C and D show how the physical size of a business is associated with its level of sales. Table A, for instance, ranks using sales/square foot of selling area and provides breakdowns by level of sales/square foot for three store characteristics: store sales, physical size, and location type. The ranking order is shown by quartile i.e., the top 25%, the upper middle 25% (those in the 50-75% range), the lower middle 25% (those in the 25-50% range) and finally, the bottom 25%. HEALTH INDICATORS DATABASE

In response to the need for centralized health information, the Canadian Centre for Health Information (CCHI) has developed a health indicator database. This database contains 40 indicators with over one million observations and is available in a binder format. The binder is a departure from traditional Statistics Canada's publications. It contains tables and colour graphs which highlight certain aspects of each indicator and, in addition, contains the entire database on personal computer diskettes. Software that retrieves the data, performs data manipulations and produces graphics is also included in the package. This format allows users to customize their data retrieval and analysis in terms of disaggregations, categories and variables.

For more information or to order this product, please contact either the nearest Regional Reference Centre (listed in Appendix C) or John Menic, Canadian Centre for Health Information, 18-G, R.H. Coats Building, Tunney's Pasture, Ottawa, Ontario, K1A 0T6 (Phone (613) 951-1654).

Note: This database is not available from Publication Sales and does not have a Statistics Canada catalogue number.

During the period 1956 to 1983, a total of 52,891 men and 40,708 women died in British Columbia as a result of cancer. The atlas presents these deaths by 24 major organ systems and geographically by 75 school districts. Mortality for each type of cancer for each school district is compared to the provincial mortality rate for each type of cancer. The results of these comparisons are depicted on maps. The atlas also contains a discussion of major risk factors for each type of cancer presented. It will be a useful addition to reference material for public health workers and educators.

This publication is the first province-wide analysis of occupational mortality risks in Canada. The authors used information on usual lifetime occupation recorded on death registrations for residents of British Columbia who died between 1950 and 1978. Proportionate mortality ratios (PMR) were used to detect unusual patterns of mortality. Although the data represent only one province, the wide range of occupations in British Columbia makes the publication useful to the country as a whole.

Scientific and technological change is one of the factors which determine the competitiveness of a firm, sector or economy. It is important to develop indicators of this activity, and thereby describe and understand the scientific and technological system and its role on society and the economy. This publication addresses this need by presenting various indicators such as human resources for science and technology, expenditures on research and development, international transfer of technology, and the use of manufacturing technologies. The topics discussed in this quarterly publication vary from issue to issue, and will correspond to the availability of updated statistics.

Industrial research and development statistics (with forecasts). Annual. First issue 1982. Bilingual.

ISSN 0824-8133.

DDC 607/.2/71.

This report summarizes research and development (R&D) activities performed and funded by Canadian business enterprises and industrial research institutes and associations. The data is used, for instance, to plan and evaluate R&D tax incentive programs, to provide indicators of the state of industrial innovation and to complement national aggregates for scientific R&D expenditures and personnel. Among the topics covered are current and capital expenditures on research and development, R&D expenditures as a percent of company sales, energy R&D expenditures by area of technology, sources of funds for intramural R&D, personnel engaged in R&D, and payments for technological services. Most historical tables are presented for 1982 to 1987 and disaggregated by 29 industrial groupings, size of R&D program, employment size, sales size, country of control and, by province with some data available for Montréal, the National Capital Region and Toronto. Canada totals for 1963 to 1989 are published for total R&D expenditures (in current and constant dollars), R&D expenditures compared to Gross Domestic Product, and sources of funds for R&D. Specific enquiries (i.e. survey methodology, reliability of the data) should be directed to the author division.

POPULATION

This series of publications provides final, unrounded population and dwelling counts (1) in a national context (for example, counts for census divisions and census subdivisions across the country are grouped together into a single publication) and (2) in a provincial context (for example, counts for most standard levels of census geography - census division (CD), census subdivision (CSD), census consolidated subdivision (CCS), census metropolitan area (CMA), census agglomeration (CA), primary census metropolitan area (PCMA), primary census agglomeration (PCA), urban and rural - in a province are grouped together in a series of tables in one publication for each province).

POPULATION AND DWELLING COUNTS

Population and Dwelling Counts publications provide population counts for all areas designated as standard census geographic areas in Canada. Measures of change since 1981 are often listed and provide useful comparative data for the reader.

92-101

Census divisions and subdivisions. 270 p. 28 cm. 1987. Bilingual. ISBN 0-660-53450-9. DDC 304.6/0971.

This publication presents 1986 population counts for 266 census divisions (CDs) and 6009 census subdivisions (CSDs) for each province and territory. Population counts are ranked both provincially and nationally. For example, a given CSD in Newfoundland is ranked according to population as it compares to other CSDs in Newfoundland, and to all other CSDs across Canada. Data are listed alphabetically for CDs in Table 1 and alphabetically, and by decreasing population order for CSDs in Tables 2 and 3, respectively.

POPULATION AND DWELLING CHARACTERISTICS

The Population and Dwelling Characteristics publications present a wide range of census data by variable, selected topics and standard geographic areas.

THE NATION SERIES

These 19 publications are designed to illustrate the scope and depth of information collected by the 1986 Census. This is achieved by presenting considerable detail for selected variables as well as cross-tabulating variables to show the analytical potential of the data. Unless otherwise indicated, data are provided for Canada, the provinces and the territories.

93-101

Age, sex and marital status. 132 p. 28 cm. 1987. Bilingual.

ISBN 0-660-53470-3.

DDC 304.6/1/0971.

This publication provides some of the most fundamental demographic information collected during the 1986 Census of Canada. Variables include age, sex and marital status with data presented for 1921 up until 1986. In addition to presenting this historical overview, the five tables that make-up this publication also feature 1981-1986 data comparisons and detailed cross-classifications for 1986.

Language retention and transfer. 637 p. 28 cm. 1989. Bilingual.

ISBN 0-660-53642-0.

DDC 305.7/0971.

For some the language most often spoken at home differs from the language first learned in childhood (mother tongue). Taken together, these are referred to as language transfers or language shifts and are a major factor in determining the mother tongue of the next generation. This publication presents 1981 and 1986 Census data on language transfer and retention, based on mother tongue by sex and age, and relative to a number of other variables. These variables include home language, ability to speak Canada's two official languages, and ethnic origin. The data featured in this release are presented in four tables, for Canada, the provinces, the territories as well as for selected census metropolitan areas.

Census metropolitan areas. 625 p. 28 cm. 1989. Bilingual.

ISBN 0-660-53645-5.

DDC 307.7/64/0971.

This publication presents census data exclusively for census metropolitan areas (CMAs). The 22 tables that make-up this publication are divided into 2 parts with 1981 and 1986 Census data presented for Canada and the provinces. Part 1 presents tabulations based on 100% data that cover demographic and family characteristics as well as mother tongue. Part 2 contains data collected on a 20% sample that focus on variables relating to dwelling and household, culture, education, mobility, economics and income. In order to facilitate comparisons between 1981 and 1986 data, 1981 CMA boundaries have been adjusted to 1986 boundary delienations.

Canadians and their occupations, a profile. 440 p. 28 cm. 1989. Bilingual.

ISBN 0-660-53646-3.

DDC 331.7/0971.

In a single table, this publication profiles 200 occupations by demographic, socio-cultural and economic characteristics. Occupations appear alphabetically in a list preceding the actual table to help users gain quick access to data relating to a specific occupation. All data are reported from the 1986 Census for both males and females, for Canada only.

PROFILE SERIES

The profile series provides a wide range of information derived from the 1986 Census of Population for a variety of standard geographic areas. This series is divided into two parts. Part 1 presents statistics collected for all households, 100 % data, that focus on basic demography, housing and families, and for the first time show the living arrangements of non-family persons 65 years and over. Part 2 on the otherhand, features tabulations for one in five households, a 20% sample, that present a detailed picture of each designated geographic area. Data are explored in terms of social, cultural, labour and 1985 income data, with additional information on housing. As seen in this series, "Major Field of Study" has been introduced as a variable for the first time in the 1986 Census, and home language, ethnic origin, mother tongue, place of birth and industry have been highlighted in greater detail. In order to provide more relevant data, a feature called incidence reporting has also been introduced in this series. Incidence reporting lists those categories with the highest counts within selected variables. For example, for census divisions and census subdivisions, mother tongue includes the five non-official languages with the highest count for each province and territory. Users of this series will not only be able to examine data for the provinces, territories and subprovincial geographic levels, but can review statistics for all of Canada. In addition, the alphabetical place name index found at the beginning of each publication will make locating data for a specific geographic area a simpler task.

Census metropolitan areas and census agglomerations. 2 v. 28 cm. 1987-1988. Bilingual. DDC 304.6/0971.

A census metropolitan area (CMA) is defined in its most basic form as a main labour market area, and a census agglomeration (CA) as a smaller labour market area, of an urban core of atleast 100,000 and 10,000, respectively. CMAs and CAs are the subject of these two publications. Part 1 profiles CMAs and CAs based on 100% data, whereas Part 2 looks at CMAs and CAs based on a 20% sample. It is useful to note that component census subdivisions of CMAs and CAs are shown in "Census Tracts" publications.

FOCUS ON CANADA SERIES

The Focus on Canada Series consists of 16 descriptive studies featuring data from the 1986 Census and where feasible from past censuses dating back as far as 1871. The studies themselves provide overviews on a wide variety of census subjects from demography to socio-cultural and economic characteristics. The series is written in non-technical language supported by simple tables and charts which make it accessible to a broad audience.

Canada's population from ocean to ocean / by Rick Mitchell. 31 p. 26 cm. 1989. Bilingual.

ISBN 0-660-54012-6.

Incorrect ISBN (0-660-54012-) printed in the publication. DDC 304.6/0971.

This publication presents data on where Canadians live and patterns of population change for Canada, the provinces, the territories and other standard geographic areas. Data are derived from past censuses beginning in 1871 up until the 1986 Census. The concentration of Canadian population near the U.S. border; changes in the urban and rural composition of Canada; and changes in the population of Canada's 25 census metropolitan areas are just some of the subject matter that make this release a valuable reference source.

This descriptive report features 1986 Census data on the demographic, economic and social conditions of aboriginal and non- aboriginal populations living in the North. More specifically, these populations are presented in terms of linguistic diversity, level of education, labour and income characteristics, housing conditions and a number of other variables. In addition, this report includes comparisons between various populations of Canada's North, as well as between the populations of Canada's northern and southern regions. For purposes of this publication, Canada's North includes the Yukon and Northwest Territories, Labrador and Northern Quebec around Ungava Bay and Hudson Bay. Some data from the 1981 Census are also presented in this release.

This study presents Census data from 1951 up until 1986 on inner cities located in 12 census metropolitan areas (CMAs) across Canada. Some of the topics explored include the extent of differences between inner cities and their outlying areas, similarities and differences between the inner cities themselves, and whether inner cities have undergone revitalization in recent years. These themes are examined in terms of age, sex, marital status, ethnic concentration and socio-economic characteristics and thus provide readers with an in-depth look at the fabric of the inner city.

Canada's youth / by Lia Ross. 39 p. 26 cm. 1989 Bilingual. ISBN 0-660-54016-9 DDC 305.2/35/0971.

This study presents a profile on "young Canadians" between the ages of 15 to 24, as defined by the 1986 Census. Data from both the 1981 and 1986 Censuses are often shown together in this study and focus on Canada's youth in terms of demographic structure, living arrangements, education, work activity and income. In addition, wherever possible, data are presented for two subgroups and for the entire youth population, for Canada, the provinces and the territories. The subgroups consist of "teens", aged 15 to 19 and "young adults", aged 20 to 24. They are categorized in this way in order to portray a more accurate picture of one of Canada's most valuable resources---our children.

DDC 331.4/0971.

This publication provides a descriptive analysis of women's labour force participation for women who are employed, unemployed and for women who have never been in the labour force. Women are explored in terms of industry, occupation, age, average employment income, marital status, presence of children and education. A number of tables contained in this study also provide comparative analysis between women and men across many of the same variables. In this study, Census data from 1986, data from earlier censuses between 1971 and 1986, and data from related surveys are presented mainly for Canada with only a brief examination of regional variations.

DDC 338.4/33635/0971.

This study features 1986 Census data on how much

Canadians spend on housing in relation to their income. In particular, problems of affordability and the causes of these problems are examined for both tenants and home-owners, for Canada, the provinces and selected census metropolitan areas. (Problems of affordability are defined as the allocation of 30% or more of a household's income to housing expenses.) The subject matter presented in this report are explored in terms of housing prices, average gross rent, dwelling type, tenure, age of household maintainer, household income and geographic location. In order to provide a more historic overview, two charts also feature 1976 to 1981 data on dwelling starts and mortgage rates for all of Canada.

Canada, a linguistic profile / by Robert Bourbeau. 37 p. 26 cm. 1989. Bilingual. ISBN 0-660-54023-1.

DDC 409/.71.

This study takes a close look at Canada's linguistic diversity by presenting statistical data from 1941, 1971, and from 1981 up until 1986, for Canada, the provinces, the territories, three major census metropolitan areas and/or other designated geographic areas. In order to best explore this theme, three principal variables have been employed. These include mother tongue or the first language learned in childhood; the language most often spoken at home; and the ability to speak Canada's two official languages, English and French. In turn, these variables have been used to measure the size and distribution of language groups across the country and to study the evolution of language minorities bilingualism.

The 1986 Census "Dictionary" is just one of several reference products developed to help users understand and correctly interpret statistics. More specifically, this publication features alphabetical listings and definitions of detailed census variables for the four major universes: population, families, households and dwellings. Possible responses for each one of these variables are also listed. In addition, standard geographic areas are defined, availability of data from earlier censuses stated, and notes on the historical comparability of certain data or concepts, reviewed. Finally, an easy to use index adds to the appeal of this already valuable reference product.

This reference publication provides readers with a means of comparing 1981 and 1986 data for census metropolitan areas (CMAs) and census agglomerations (CAs). Altogether, four tables make-up this release, with regular CMAs and CAs presented in Tables 1A and 2A, respectively, and consolidated CMAs and CAs presented in Tables 1B and 2B, respectively. Consolidated CMAs and CAs are broken-down further into their constituent primary census metropolitan areas (PCMAs) and primary census agglomerations (PCAs), and the component census subdivisions of each are listed. Census subdivisions are also listed for CMAs and CAs in all four tables, according to 1981 and 1986 delienations. Finally, the six appendices found at the end of the release will give readers the opportunity to gain quick access to some useful resource material on the subject matter.

1986 census geography : a historical comparison. 51 p. 28 cm. 1988. E. and F. ISBN 0-660-12730-X.

DDC 917.1/09173.

This reference publication combines 10 tables, three figures and concise text to assist the user in understanding standard and non-standard geographic terms. In addition to giving detailed definitions of terms, comparisons are drawn between geographic terms associated with the 1986 Census and those applied during earlier censuses beginning in 1961; the greatest emphasis is placed on the comparability of terms applied in 1981. This approach aims to ensure that comparisons of data over time are accurate.

USER'S GUIDES TO 1986 CENSUS DATA

This series of guides provides additional information to that in other census publications. They describe the collection, processing and validation of 1986 Census data and will help users better understand its nature and limitations.

The series comprises 14 guides, 6 of which are now available and are described below. Note: See also 99-130, 99-135.

Seven uncatalogued guides and one catalogued guide will be published before April 1991. They are:

Age, sex, marital status
Mobility
Income
Major field of study - data processing and validation
Housing and households
Ethnic origin
Place of birth
Data quality: sampling (99-136).

User's guide to 1986 census data on occupation / Patricia Grainger, Sandra Swain, Sheila Young. 97 p. 28 cm. 1990. E. and F.

ISBN 0-660-13341-5.

DDC 331.7/00971.

The purpose of this document is to provide users of the 1986 Census occupation data with some background information on the collection, coding and production of occupation data and to alert users to the potential problems or intricacies of the data. After a brief overview of the processing cycle, an analysis of the data by major group is presented. This analysis compares the 1986 Census occupation data with that produced in 1981 and, where applicable, with other sources of data, to verify trends and identify inconsistencies.

ISBN 0-660-13343-1.

DDC 331.11/0971.

The purpose of this document is to provide information on the most significant aspects of labour force activity data. It contains information concerning the questions asked, the definitions used, and the processing done to arrive at the final data. In addition, it contains a discussion of historical comparability of the 1986 Census labour force activity data to data from previous censuses. A section on data quality presents an analysis of census data from the perspective of comparability to Labour Force Survey data. In order to service the needs of the technical user, guidelines on data retrieval have also been included.

ISBN 0-660-13345-8.

DDC 306.8/5/0971.

This publication provides users with detailed information as well as guidelines to enhance their understanding of 1986 Census data on families. Discussions in this release focus on the collection of data during the 1981 and 1986 Census as well as some data previously unpublished in regular census products. In addition, concepts pertaining to the identification of families as well as terms used to describe families such as common-law partnerships, census and economic families, and aboriginal and immigrant families are also explored. Taken together, these aspects and a review of some of the questions presented in the Census of Canada provide users with a closer look at the way this type of information is collected and processed, and hence the quality of the data itself.

GEOGRAPHIC REFERENCE PRODUCTS

Geographic Reference Products are made up of 13 publications developed to assist the reader in using and interpreting census data. They are intended to be reference tools rather than data sources and include maps, enumeration area reference lists and equivalent enumeration areas for 1986 and 1981.

99-115

Maps, census divisions and subdivisions. 27 p. 30 cm. 1987. Bilingual.

ISBN 0-660-53526-2.

DDC 912/.13046/0971.

This publication features reference maps with the names, codes and boundaries of all census divisions (CDs) and census subdivisions (CSDs) in effect on January 1, 1986 in each province and territory in Canada. Names and codes of census metropolitan areas and census agglomerations (for each province and territory) are also shown. An index listing all maps, as well as a map naming CDs for all of Canada for the 1986 Census, are also included.

ENUMERATION AREA REFERENCE LISTS

This series consists of 10 geographic reference lists for the 1986 Census of Canada. Each publication identifies the linkage between the basic and usually smallest geographic unit of census collection called the enumeration area, and various other standard geographic areas for which 1986 Census data have been tabulated. In order to ensure accurate comparisons of data over time, users should recall that census geographic areas are subject to change from one census to the next; this applies to both enumeration areas and most standard geographic areas.

99-117 to 99-120

Census divisions and subdivisions. 4 v. 28 cm. 1987. Bilingual.

DDC 304.6/0971.

The four publications listed below contain a table and four indexes for each of the ten provinces and two territories presented. The table allows the user to identify the enumeration areas in each census subdivision (CSD), with the CSDs presented in alphabetical order within each census consolidated subdivision (CCS). CCSs are presented in code order within each census division (CD) and the CDs are presented in alphabetical order within each province. In addition, the four indexes list CDs, CCSs, CSDs and urban areas to assist users in locating a specific geographic area within a table.

This publication is made-up of one table that features census tracts listed in numerical order, located within 25 census metropolitan areas (CMAs) and 12 census agglomerations (CAs) in Canada. The CMAs and CAs are listed in alphabetical order and all enumeration areas, primary census metropolitan areas (PCMAs), primary census agglomerations (PCAs), census subdivisions (CSDs) and CMA/CA parts for each census tract are easily identified. In addition, the two indexes to the table enable users to locate all census tracts found within CSD, PCMA and PCA areas of tracted census metropolitan areas and census agglomerations.

The single table found in each of these four publications presents all provincial census tracts in numerical order within each province and territory and identifies the census enumeration area(s) within each tract itself. Each table also features the census divisions and census subdivisions in which each provincial census tract is located. Finally, an index to the table is found in each release and gives users interested in specific census subdivisions the opportunity to identify and locate the corresponding provincial census tract in the table.

The two tables that make-up this publication present the 25 census metropolitan areas (CMAs) and 114 census agglomerations (CAs) delienated for Canada, and identify all the enumeration areas within them. Both tables list all CMAs and CAs alphabetically, with Table 1 identifying all component census subdivisions (CSDs), and Table 2 identifying all provincial census tracts or parts of census tracts within each agglomeration. Two indexes to this publication also prove useful by helping readers to easily identify and locate specific primary census metropolitan areas, primary agglomerations and component subdivisions within the tables.

DDC 304.6/0971.

This reference publication contains five tables for each province and territory, that list the geographically equivalent enumeration areas (EAs) of the 1981 and 1986 Censuses. The first two tables identify those enumeration areas for which there is one to one correspondence between 1981 and 1986. The third table lists all geographically equivalent groups of EAs in each province and territory for the same census years, and finally the remaining two tables serve as indexes to Table 3. By accessing this publication users may find comparisons between 1981 and 1986 Census data, at the EA level, a simplified task.

In a massive undertaking such as the census, the results are never perfect. Although considerable effort has been made to maintain high standards of quality, errors inevitably occur at various stages of the collection and processing operations. This publication presents the nature and scope of any errors that the census data may contain, as well as the risks involved in basing conclusions or decisions on these data. The publication explains the different type of coverage errors and where in the census process they can occur. It also describes the various studies conducted to investigate the incidence of coverage errors in the census. The results of the various studies are also presented.

This reference publication provides insight into the wide range of activities involved in undertaking the 1986 Census of Canada. More specifically, it focuses on the planning, procedures and systems required to carry out and complete the Census. Particular attention is given to changes and improvements in the 1986 Census (relative to the 1981 Census) and to special issues that were addressed. This publication complements two other general reference publications on the 1986 Census: the Census Dictionary (Cat. no. 99-101E) and the Census

Handbook (Cat. no. 99-104E). It is hoped that all three references will help users to better understand and correctly interpret 1986 Census data.

As indicated in the introduction, this section is a listing of microdata files that have not been described before in the Statistics Canada Catalogue. The information was supplied by project managers in various divisions throughout the Agency. The file descriptions may vary somewhat in consistency of content and presentation. However, users should find the descriptive material adequate as a first step in the identification of data related to their needs.

Microdata files consist of unaggregated records of individual responses to Agency surveys, which have been carefully screened to ensure complete confidentiality (i.e. all records are non-identifiable). Selected data sets in this form have been assembled to be used, along with necessary documentation, on users' own computer systems.

The file descriptions are in the form of information profiles. Each heading provides information on an important aspect of the file. Although not detailed, the profile information is designed to permit a prospective client to decide if information from a particular file is likely to meet his or her need. However, before ordering, it is advised that the address or telephone number provided under the heading, "Contact" be used to obtain information on availability as well as quality, confidentiality, delivery dates, or other conditions or restrictions which may apply.

Note: Indexing for the microdata files has been incorporated in the main subject and author/title indexes.

MDF-3135 National Graduate Survey. 1978-

Summary

The survey was designed to determine the employment experience of university and college graduates and provide information on rates of unemployment, under-employment, career expectations, and the relationship between post-secondary education and occupational experience. Information is given on fields of study, employment 2 or 5 years after graduation (occupations and industries), relationships between study and employment, annual salaries, percentage working/not working, and job satisfaction.

Summary

This sample survey provides data on the lifestyle and health of Canadians, and was conducted jointly by Statistics Canada and Health and Welfare Canada. Persons in households are the basic sampling units. 352 variables including weighting factors are available. Briefly, these variables measure 1) risk factors: lifestyle, bio-medical and environmental; 2) health status: physical and emotional health and health problems; and 3) health status consequences: medical care utilization and health problem impact. Extensive demographic and some household characteristic information is available.

MDF-3804 Survey of 1981 Work History.

Summary

This survey was conducted as a supplement to the monthly Labour Force Survey, and provides detailed information on all jobs (up to a maximum of four) held by respondents over the course of 1981. For each job, data are shown for the industry, occupation, class of worker (paid, unpaid or self-employed) and months worked. For paid workers, data are presented on work schedule, wage rate, reasons for working variable hours, union membership, and desire for additional hours (part-time employees only). Standard demographic variables and annual income from all sources are shown for all respondents. Work history data for later years is collected in Survey of Annual Work Patterns and Labour Market Activity Survey.

Survey of Displaced Workers. 1986

Summary

Conducted as a supplement to the Labour Force Survey. Provides information on workers displaced from jobs during the period 1980-85 for reasons of permanent lay-off, plant closures, work shortages, etc. Specifically, data are provided on the number and characteristics of workers affected, reasons for job cutbacks or elimination of shifts, the pattern of employment stability within certain industries and occupations, the impact of job displacement (e.g. how long a person remains without work and whether relocation is necessary to find work), and insurance benefits and training following job displacements.

Summary

Objectives of the survey are: 1) to measure the frequency and number of job changes in the Canadian labour market over one and two year periods; 2) to provide information on the characteristics of jobs held period; 3) to this socio-economic/demographic profiles of groups of people who would benefit from Employment and Immigration Canada (EIC) programs; and 4) to identify participants of specific EIC programs. Topics include: periods of employment and unemployment; job search activities; unionization; pension plan coverage; wage rates; work schedules; inter- and intra- employer occupational mobility; and financial compensation during absences from work. Data is presented in 3 files: persons, jobs, and spells of labour market activity.

Summary

The data have been organized into two files: Individual, and Household/Family. To create each of these basic files an independent stratified sample was taken from 1981 Census records. The Individual file contains detailed demographic and economic data, along with selected family and household characteristics, for each individual in the sample. In the Household/Family file, each record consists of two parts: the household part contains detailed information on the occupants of the household, as well as some information on housing; the family part gives detailed information on each census family and non-family person within the household.

The Geography Division offers a wide variety of digital files, map products and special services described below. For further information or to order any of these products, please contact your local Statistics Canada Regional Reference Centre (listed in Appendix C), or Geography Information Services at (613) 951-3889.

DIGITAL FILES

The digital files consist of data linkage files and geographic files. These products can be easily integrated into most computer systems, thereby allowing users to build databases. The files are available on diskette or magnetic tape and where indicated are available in special formats. Prices vary from $300 to several thousand dollars depending on size and complexity of the request. Prices are available upon request and can change without notice.

A. Geographic Files

When used with a mapping software package, these files provide visual representation of geographic areas and the various geostatistical units.

Area Master Files (AMFs):

An Area Master File (AMF) contains a logical representation of all streets and other features such as railroad tracks, rivers and municipal boundaries for a given geographic area (usually a municipality) in machine-readable form. An AMF geographically references every street, address range, block-face and centroid coordinate in the coverage area. AMFs are available for most urban centres with a population of 50,000 or more.

Cartographic Boundary Files (CARTLIBs):

CARTLIBS are digital cartographic libraries of the boundaries and related features of various geostatistical areas. CARTLIBS can be used in conjunction with computer mapping programs to map statistical data. They are available in a variety of popular formats, including ARC/INFO, GIMMS, ATLAS*GRAPHICS, SAS/GRAPH, MAPINFO, and MAPANALYST.

B. Data Linkage Files

These files provide linkages of specific units or place names to the Census geographic codes and names, geographic locations and associated attributes.

Geography Tape File (GTF):

The Geography Tape File assigns to each 1986 Census enumeration area (the basic geographic unit of census data collection) all higher geographic levels by codes and names. It includes all standard geographic codes, and also locates each enumeration area centroid according to Universal Transverse Mercator (UTM) coordinates and Lambert coordinates, as well as by latitude and longitude. The final 1986 population counts and occupied private dwelling counts for all enumeration areas are also presented.

Postal Code Conversion File (PCCF):

This file matches six-character postal codes to geographic codes used by the Census, and also located each postal code according to Universal Transverse Mercator (UTM) coordinates and latitude/longitude coordinates. The file contains one or more records for each postal code.

Place Name Master File (PNMF):

The 1986 Place Name Master File lists census divisions, census subdivisions and unincorporated places for which population was reported by the 1986 Census. (Unincorporated place refers to any cluster of five or more permanently occupied dwellings, in rural areas, locally known by a specific name but not having a local government or legal limits.) Information given on the PNMF includes Standard Geographical Classification codes, census codes, type of place, location in latitude and longitude, census map number and population. For unincorporated places, a breakdown of population by enumeration areas is also given.

Street Index:

The 1986 Street Index links address ranges to census enumeration area (EA), census tract (CT), census subdivision (CSD) and federal electoral district (FED) levels of the census geographic hierarchy. Street Indexes generally cover urban centres having 50,000 or more in population and are available for 13 census agglomerations (CAs) and 25 census metropolitan areas (CMAs), of which a portion only may be covered. The data contained in each Street Index consist of street data and geographic data: the former include street name, type, direction, odd and even address ranges; the latter include census enumeration area, census tract, census division, census subdivision and federal district.

MAPS

The maps produced by the Geography Division can be divided into two categories: reference maps and statistical maps. The boundaries of census geographic areas are presented on reference maps either in data publications, map bulletins or on individual sheets. These maps enable users to locate and identify census geographic areas and to relate statistical data to the corresponding geographic areas. Statistical maps have been produced to support data publications and to give graphical representation of selected census data variables. The following is a description of both types of maps including prices, numbers and scales of maps.

A. Reference Maps

Several map series have been produced to support 1986 Census publications and the delineation of geostatistical boundaries. With the exception of the G86-16 and the Forward Sortation Area map series, similar maps are also available for other census years.

Prices for preprinted colour maps are $4 per map, G-Series maps (produced on demand) are $5, $10 and $15 per map, for ozalid paper, intermediate film and ozapaque film respectively. The G86-13A series is priced at $1 per sheet. Prices are subject to change without notice.

This publication presents reference maps of census divisions (CDs) and census subdivisions (CSDs) in each province and territory of Canada for the 1986 Census of Canada. Codes and names for all CDs and census metropolitan areas and census agglomerations are presented for each province and territory. An index map of all CDs in Canada is included. The same series of maps appears in Volume II of the 1986 Standard Geographical Classification Manual, Catalogue 12-572. Scale: 1:250,000 to 1:6,000,000

ISBN 0-660-53527-0. DDC 912/.13046/0971.

This publication enables users to relate census data to the geographic areas known as census metropolitan areas (CMAs) and census agglomerations (CAs). CMAs and CAs reflect an urban labour market area, an urban core together with surrounding urban and rural areas that are economically and socially integrated with that core. The publication highlights the boundaries of the 25 CMAs and 114 CAs along with their component census subdivisions (municipalities). As well, the publication displays the urbanized core, urban fringe, and rural fringe parts of each CMA/CA. Scale: 1:30,000 to 1:900,000

95-101 to 95-179

Census Tract Reference Maps, 62 Maps

These colour maps appear in the data publications, Census Tract Profile series. The maps present the boundaries of each census tract within census metropolitan areas and tracted census agglomerations. Some street detail is provided to orient the user. These maps enable users to relate the data presented in the publication to a geographic location. They can also be used to obtain other more detailed enumeration area maps or other data presented by census tract. These maps can be ordered separately. Scale: 1:40,0000 to 1:450,000

94-125 and 94-126

Canada / 1976 Federal Electoral District Index Map, 1 Map

This colour index map accompanies the Federal Electoral District (FED) profiles. The map indicates the boundaries for each of the 282 FEDs, according to the 1976 Representation Order, on a general base map of Canada. A list of FEDs and codes are also shown on the map. The map can be purchased separately. Scale: 1:10.000.000

94-133 and 94-134

Canada / 1987 Federal Electoral District Index Map, 1 Map

Same as above, except this map accompanies the profiles for the 295 Federal Electoral Districts according to the 1987 Representation Order. The map can be purchased separately. Scale: 1:10,000,000

Urban Forward Sortation Area Maps, 114 Maps

These colour maps present the boundaries of forward sortation areas (FSAs), the first three characters of the postal code, in census tracted centres of Canada. The maps enable users to relate census data contained in the 1986 Census of Canada, Urban Forward Sortation Area Profiles to the geographic location of the FSA. Scale: 1:40,000 to 1:450,000

Rural Forward Sortation Area Maps, 21 Maps

These black and white maps present the boundaries of forward sortation areas in the rest of Canada not covered by the series above. Scale: 1:250,000 to 1:6,000,000

G86-10 Series, Census Divisions and Subdivisions, 21 Maps

These are black and white versions of the maps available in 99-115. The maps present the boundaries of census divisions (CDs) and census subdivisions for each province. Map scales range from 1:250,000 in the most densely populated areas to 1:4,000,000 in the northern territories. Codes and names for all CDs and census metropolitan areas/census agglomerations are presented for each province and territory. Scale: 1:250,000 to 1:4,000,000

G86-12 Series, Maps of Rural Enumeration Areas, 2,088 Maps

The enumeration area (EA) is the building block for all the standard geographical areas. This series of maps shows the boundaries of EAs in the rural areas of Canada. National Topographic System (NTS) maps from Energy, Mines and Resources Canada are used as the base maps for this series. The scales of these maps range from 1:50,000 to 1:500,000 (or smaller scales in northern areas). The series also shows the boundaries of census divisions, census subdivisions and federal electoral districts. Scale: 1:50,000 to 1:5,000,000

G86-13 Series, Census Tracts/Enumeration Areas Maps, 3,081 Maps

This series of maps shows the enumeration areas (EAs) in census tracts (CTs). Each map sheet covers one or more census tracts. The maps vary in scale but are of a scale large enough to show Federal Electoral District and EA boundaries, street names, block numbers and many physical features. This series is available for the 37 census tracted centres i.e., the 25 census metropolitan areas (CMAs) and 12 tracted census agglomerations (CAs) in Canada. Small scale reference maps showing all census tracts in a CMA or CA provide an index to the individual CTs shown in this series. Scale: 1:3,000 to 1:50,000

G86-13A Series, Census Tracts/Enumeration Areas Maps, 1,764 Maps

Maps in this series are the same as those in the G86-13 Series above; however, these maps are reduced to a standard size and made available in booklet form. Scale: 1:6,000 to 1:100,000

G86-14 Series, Maps of Selected Census Subdivisions, 1,500 Maps

The maps in this series show the smaller urban census subdivisions (CSDs) of Canada. Each map shows a CSD and the streets within it. Enumeration area (EA) boundaries are shown only for those CSDs in this series with three or more EAs. For the other CSDs in the series, the EA boundaries can be found in the G86-12 series maps. Scale: 1:2,000 to 1:20,000

G86-16 Series, Place Maps, 65 Maps

The G86-16 series consists of place maps of parts of census subdivisions (CSDs). As with the G86-14 series, each map shows the streets in the coverage area. Enumeration area (EA) boundaries are shown only where three or more EAs exist. Scale: 1:3,000 to 1:50,000

G86-18 Series, Federal Electoral Districts/ Enumeration Area Maps, 282 Maps

This series contains a map for each of the 282 Federal Electoral Districts (FEDs) based on the 1976 Representation Order in Canada. Map scales vary; however, the scale of each map is large enough to show the enumeration area (EA) boundaries. Maps of FEDs in the larger urban areas of Canada show census tracts as well as EA boundaries. FEDs in smaller urban areas or rural areas show the boundaries of census divisions and census subdivisions in addition to the EA boundaries. Scale: 1:10,000 to 1:4,000,000

G86-21 Series, Provincial Census Tracts Maps, 441 Maps

Provincial census tracts (PCTs) exist in areas not included in the census tract program and are usually determined by the provinces. Boundaries of PCTs are presented, as well as an outline of census metropolitan areas and census agglomerations containing census tracts. Scale: 1:50,000 to 1:1,000,000

B. Statistical Maps

A series of off-the-shelf statistical maps have been produced, showing selected statistical variables from the 1986 Census of Canada. The maps are in two types; volume-printed maps are on paper, and are available in large quantities, while pre-produced maps are on film media, including contact prints, slides, transparencies and positive and negative film.

Prices vary from $1 to $50, depending on size and type, and are outlined below. All the maps in this series are bilingual in format. Due to the nature of the map projection used, the specified scale is only and approximation and does not hold true for all points on the map.

Volume-printed Maps

- 1) Population Distribution, 1986 is a white on black map, 11" by 8.5" (28cm by 22cm), uses white dots to display the population distribution by Census Division in a Globogram projection, and sells for $1.00. Scale: 1:25,000,000
- 2) Population Change, 1981-1986 is a colour map, 15" by 11" (38cm by 28cm), and uses 5 classes in green and brown tones to display the change in population between 1981 and 1986, by Census Division. This $4.00 map uses a Globogram projection and a neutral grey to represent sparsely populated areas. Scale: 12,000,000
- 3) Population Density, 1986 is a colour map, 22" by 17" (56cm X 43cm), and uses 6 classes in yellow and brown tones to display the population density by Census Division. This large format $8.00 map uses a Globogram projection and a neutral grey to represent sparsely populated areas. Scale: 1:7,000,000

Pre-produced maps

Pre-produced maps are available in black and white, on various film media, and in the following sizes:

11" by 8.5" (28cm by 22cm) for $25.00 Scale: 1:25,000,000

17" by 11" (43cm by 28cm) for $35.00 Scale: 1:12.000.000

22" by 17" (56cm by 43cm) for $50.00 Scale: 1: 7,000,000

SPECIAL SERVICES

The special services offered by Geography Division allow users to specify their own geographic base for data retrieval and custom map production. Consultative services are also offered to meet special user needs. Prices are based on specific client requirements.

Geocoding:

The Geographically Referenced Data Storage and Retrieval (GRDSR), or Geocoding, System is used to geographically code and store census data. It assigns geographic coordinates (centroids) at the population centres of every enumeration area in Canada and at the geographic centre of each block-face in most large urban areas. This system permits the retrieval of census data for user-defined areas.

Custom Maps:

Customized maps and atlases for national, regional, provincial and urban areas can be produced on paper, mylar, film, transparency or slide for standard census areas, or client-supplied areas.

Special Population Compilation:

Population compilations are available from the current and previous censuses. Counts are based on compilations from census collection documents.

Will Answer Your Questions About Canada's Corporate Pyramids

Inter-Corporate Ownership 1990

is the most comprehensive and authoritative source of information available on Canadian corporate ownership.

Inter-Corporate Ownership lists over 65,000 corporations providing the names of all holding and held companies, ownership percentages and the position of each within the overall corporate hierarchy.

Inter-Corporate Ownership is an indispensable reference source for researching:

- Business-to-business marketing: who owns your corporate clients?
- Purchases: who owns your suppliers?
- Investments: what else does a company own or control?
- Corporate competition: what do your competitors own and control?
- Industrial development: in which province and industry is a corporation active?

Inter-Corporate Ownership 1990

(Cat.no.61-517) is available for $325 in Canada and US$390 in other countries. To order, write Publication Sales, Statistics Canada, Ottawa, Ontario, K1A 0T6. Or contact the Statistics Canada Regional Reference Centre nearest you. For faster service, fax your order to 1-613-951-1584. Or call toll-free to 1-800-267-6677 and use your VISA or MasterCard.

SUBJECT INDEX

ABBREVIATIONS

B = Bulletin [Census of Manufactures publications]

CA = Census agglomeration

CD = Census division

CMA = Census metropolitan area

CSD = Census subdivision

CT = Census tract

E = English

EA = Enumeration area

FED = Federal electoral district

M = Microfiche

MDF = Microdata file

P = Preliminary

S = Supplement

USING THE INDEXES

The catalogue index has been divided into two parts: author/title and subject. In the author/title index, personal authors and titles of publications described in the catalogue are listed. Each entry is followed by a number which corresponds to the numerically arranged contents of the catalogue. The subject index functions in the same way, providing access by subject to the contents of the publications contained in the catalogue.

CROSS REFERENCES

In the subject index, cross references are frequently used. A See reference refers from a non-preferred to a preferred term in the index.

Example:

CPI

See

Consumer price index

A See also refers to related material in the index.

Example:

Enterprises

See also

Business enterprises

Corporations

Specific subjects or commodities not found in the index may require the user to consider broader search terms. In the case of a specific commodity, for which there is no entry in the index, users may look under the industry of which that specific commodity is a part. For example, there is no entry under "Colognes", but users will find references to relevant publications by looking under "Toilet preparations".

Users may wish to consult the various Standard Classification manuals to identify broad groupings under which their specific interest may fall (see Appendix B - Classification Manuals).

Where the contents of a publication focus largely upon a particular subject, the document number is highlighted in bold, permitting ease in visibility and access.

ALPHABETIZATION

Initial articles [eg. "the"] are disregarded in the alphabetical arrangement of the author/title index. In the subject index years are organized chronologically and precede alphabetized material.

MICRODATA FILES

This edition of the catalogue contains, for the first time, descriptions of public microdata files (MDF) available from Statistics Canada. These files have been described in a separate section of the catalogue and arranged by numbers that begin with the abbreviation MDF. The indexing for the microdata files has been incorporated in the main author/title and subject indexes that follow.

CANSIM AND OTHER DATA FORMATS

Data formats other than those catalogued here are also available from Statistics Canada. These include CANSIM, microform, and CD-ROM products.

CANSIM

The Electronic Data Dissemination Division (EDDD) is responsible for CANSIM, Statistics Canada's computerized database network and information retrieval service. CANSIM, which stands for Canadian Socio-economic Information Management System, provides public access to current and historical statistics in various forms, as well as specialized data manipulation and analysis packages, graphics facilities, and a bibliographic search service.

Online Access

The CANSIM Time Series Database, or Main Base, offers detailed and conceptually compatible sets of aggregated time series on many subjects, most pertaining to business and the economy. The Main Base, now comprising about 500,000 series, is available to the public at a commercial data processing service bureau. A subset of the complete base, known as the Mini Base, is available from licensed secondary distributors who in turn offer the public a wide variety of data access services.

Data Retrieval Services

CANSIM retrieval services are also offered by Statistics Canada. CANSIM time series data can be obtained in conventional tabular formats and in various colour graphic forms. This service will enhance statistical analysis and includes many ancillary options for listing and transforming retrieved data.

Further, EDDD provides retrieval services to meet specific user requirements for data on two other systems. The CANSIM Cross-classified Database features statistical tables containing a variety of social and economic data, plus the Census Summary Data System that comprises 1971, 1976, 1981 and 1986 Census characteristics for various geographical areas. The Census Summary Tapes contain data from the 1961 through to 1986 Censuses.

Microcomputer Products

Subscribers to the CANSIM Main Base can download data directly to their microcomputers. In addition to the capture of tabular text output, two microcomputer-oriented data formats are provided. Comma Delimited Format (CDF) and Data Interchange Format (DIF) can be provided to enable convenient processing and use with commercial spreadsheet software. EDDD can supply custom packaging of data on microcomputer diskettes and has developed utility software for IBM/PC compatible computers to access cross sectional data downloaded to diskette from the CANSIM Main Base or Cross-Classifed Database.

In addition to computer tapes, data from the 1986 Census have been prepackaged on diskette along with utility software for ease of use. Custom packaging is also availale as a services.

Bibliographic Search Service

EDDD maintains an internal bibliographic information search service for its CANSIM Main Base Directory and can produce customized directories or special searches on a cost-recovery basis for users.

In addition to the above, EDDD also maintains a number of internal online bibliographic databases including the Statistics Canada Inventory of Catalogued Publications. This database, derived from the DOBIS system, has been adapted to enable flexible retrieval and production of other printed and electronic reference products including both diskette and CD-ROM based products.

Diskette Products

EDDD has produced, in IBM/PC diskette format, an Electronic Publications Directory. This product includes search and retrieval software to access both current and historical catalogued publications. It incorporates synonyms and a thesaurus. It can display both titles and abstracts, and has an 'availability for purchase' indicator. This product provides a compact (1.5 megabytes) and easy to use alternative to the online services normally available only to professional researchers and libraries.

CD-ROM Products

EDDD has recently produced two compact disk (CD-ROM) reference products. The STATCAN: Reference Disc contains four databases that are keyword searchable. These include:

- CANSIM Main Base Series Directory
- Statistics Canada Inventory of Catalogued Publications
- Terminology Reference List
- Statistics Canada Telephone Directory

The STATCAN: Selected Data Disc contains both data and resource material. In addition to the above four reference databases, this product contains approximately 100,000 time series from the CANSIM Time Series Database and data retrieval and presentation software.

Further Information

More information about CANSIM services can be obtained from any Statistics Canada Regional Reference Centre.

HOW TO GET MORE HELP

Various products may help in locating needed statistics or in keeping up-to-date with new releases. In addition to the internal online bibliographic information systems maintained by Statistics Canada, two outside online information retrieval systems, DOBIS and CAN/OLE, provide valuable sources of information on Statistics Canada documents.

Descriptions of publications excluded from this catalogue, that is, out-of-print publications or those with data more than ten years old, can be found in the Historical Catalogue of Statistics Canada Publications 1918-1980 (11-512E), Current Publications Index, 1986 (11-204E), and the Statistics Canada Catalogue, 1981-1985, 1987/1988 and 1989 (11-204E).

In addition, both DOBIS and CAN/OLE contain records of publications not in this catalogue.

DOBIS is the online bibliographic information system of the National Library of Canada. Used by a network of 477 government, university and special libraries across Canada, DOBIS contains descriptions of most Statistics Canada publications from 1920 on, and all census publications released since 1851. Eventually all Statistics Canada publications will be included on this system.

CAN/OLE is the retrieval system of the Canada Institute for Scientific and Technical Information, which makes accessible STATCAN, Statistics Canada's online catalogue. This catalogue is updated quarterly and contains full descriptions of most publications released since 1920 and census publications dating back to 1851. Eventually, it too will describe all historical publications of Statistics Canada. Available in more than 2000 libraries and research centres across Canada, STATCAN can produce tailored bibliographies on the topic of choice.

For more information on DOBIS or CAN/OLE, contact the Statistics Canada Library or the following addresses:

DOBIS, Search Service Coordinator National Library of Canada 395 Wellington Street Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0N4 Tel.: (819) 997-7000

Publication release announcements

The Daily (11-001E). This publication contains news summaries and announcements of reports, reference papers and their releases and a list of titles of publications released.

Infomat (11-002E). The weekly review highlights major Statistics Canada reports, reference papers and other releases. It contains charts, a summary of the latest monthly statistics and a complete list of publications released during the week, arranged alphabetically by originating division.

Classification manuals

Canadian export classification (based on the Harmonized System) (12-578E). This publication lists all possible export Harmonized System codes and their accompanying descriptions and is therefore an essential tool in the preparation of customs export documentation.

Canadian export-import alphabetical index (based on the Harmonized System) (12-579E). This publication facilitates the selection of the correct tendigit import Harmonized System (H.S.) classification number and/or eight-digit export H.S. number based on the user's understanding of a commodity description.

Canadian standard industrial classification for Companies and Enterprises, 1980 (12-570E). This publication provides a framework for classifying Canadian companies and enterprises to 18 main industrial sectors such as energy, wood and paper, communications, 60 sub-sectors and 163 segments.

Standard industrial classification, 1980 (12-501E). This classification describes the industrial structure of the Canadian economy in terms of the principal activities of establishments. It follows the traditional sectoring of the economy into extraction, transformation and services.

Standard classification of goods, 1988: based on the Harmonized Commodity Description and Coding System (12-580E). This publication classifies commodities according to an eight-digit structure. It is based on the international Harmonized Commodity Description and Coding System, and separately identifies the classes used to collect statistics for imports, exports and production.

Standard geographical classification: SGC, 1986. Volume 1, The classification (12-571). Presents a system of names and codes to identify geographical areas of Canada. These areas include provinces, census divisions (counties) and subdivisions (municipalities) which form the three-tiered hierarchy of the Standard Geographical Classification (SGC) as well as other standard systems such as census metropolitan areas.

Standard geographical classification: SGC, 1986. Volume II, The reference maps (12-572). A series of 24 detailed maps showing the boundaries, names and codes of the 1986 Standard Geographical Classification covering all of Canada.

Standard geographical classification: SGC, 1986. Volume III, Changes - 1981 - 1986 (12-573). A five-year summary of the changes affecting the Standard Geographical Classification since January 1989 including details such as: type of change, effective date, population and territory affected in the case of boundary adjustments, etc.

Standard occupational classification, 1980 (12-565E). This classification provides a systematic classification structure to identify and categorize the entire range of occupational activity in Canada.

1986 Census reference manuals

General review of the 1986 census (99-137E). This publication focuses on the planning, procedures and systems required to undertake and complete the 1986 Census. Attention is also given to changes relative to the 1981 Census.

1986 Census dictionary (99-101E). This dictionary provides alphabetically listed definitions of census variables from the four major universes: population, families, households, and dwellings and also for the geographic variables.

1986 Census handbook (99-104E). This handbook draws together census information from many sources and is a convenient "first stop" for both new and experienced data users.

1986 Census products and services (99-103E). This publication provides detailed information on the products and services available from the 1986 Census.

User's guide, 1986 Census of agriculture (96-101). This reference document is for users of the 1986 Census of Agriculture data. It details content, confidentiality procedures, geographic structure, variety of products, prices and ordering procedures.

General reference manuals

Guides to using Statistics Canada data (unnumbered publication). This series of guides is a straight-forward look at "the basics": how to find the facts, electronic options for accessing data, how to get local assistance, how Statistics Canada is organized, etc. It includes a case study approach which explores ways of using statistics for marketing, economics, finance and human resources. The guides show some of the many ways data collected from specific surveys can be profitably put to use. To order the guides, contact your local Regional Reference Centre.

Historical statistics of Canada (11-516E), 1983. This is a unique compendium that depicts in text and extensive historical tables the nation's growth and development from Confederation to the modern era. The book, covering 22 topics, draws together social, economic and political time series from a wide variety of sources and provides explanatory notes on the statistics.

Index to Statistics Canada surveys and questionnaires (12-205S). This index lists all the questionnaire-based surveys of Statistics Canada and the questionnaires used in conducting the surveys, under the division of Statistics Canada that is responsible for the survey.

Listing of supplementary documents (11-207). This is a systematic inventory of supplementary Statistics Canada documents available to the public, including technical papers, memoranda, and discussion and working papers.

Overview. This quarterly newsletter is published by the Communications Division of Statistics Canada and distributed free of charge to inform clients of changes in departmental programs and policies. It also contains indepth information on products and services available. To order Overview, contact your local Regional Reference Centre.

Retention guidelines for Statistics Canada publications in libraries. This publication is available to help libraries build collections of statistics. provides specific recommendations on current serials and monographs. It also includes notes on the history of publications and suggestions for discontinued publications. These notes are especially helpful to managers faced with space constraints and an array of publications with similar titles. These guidelines can be ordered as an entire set or in individual chapters, organized in catalogue number sequence. If further information or advice is required, contact the Statistics Canada Library at (613) 951-8219 or any of the Regional Reference Centres.

HOW TO ORDER PUBLICATIONS

How to Subscribe to a Periodical Publication

You can subscribe to any Statistics Canada publication that is issued regularly. Within this catalogue, such publications are identified as daily, weekly, monthly, quarterly, semi-annual or annual.

As a subscriber, you will receive new issues of the publications you have ordered as they are released. And throughout the year, you will receive announcements of new products allowing you to update your library of statistical information.

To subscribe to any Statistics Canada publication, remember to list the annual subscription price and write an "S" in the issue column of the order form provided.

How to Order Single Issues

You may wish to order a single copy of a publication before subscribing for an entire year. To order a single copy of any publication or series, remember to list the single issue price when ordering. You will receive a copy of the most recent issue.

Many publications listed in this catalogue are issued only occasionally. When ordering these titles, simply list the applicable Canadian, U.S. or foreign price. Again, you will receive a copy of the most recent issue.

You may order any Statistics Canada publication using the enclosed order form.

Order by Mail

Order your Statistics Canada publications by mail from...

Publication Sales Room 1710 Main Building Statistics Canada Ottawa, Ontario Canada K1A 0T6

... or from one of our Regional Reference Centres listed in Appendix C. For your convenience, bookstores and subscription agents are also listed in Appendix C.

Order by Phone or FAX

To order by phone, call Publication Sales at 1-613-951-7277 or, in Canada, use the national toll-free number 1-800-267-6677. You may also facsimile your order using the enclosed coupon by dialing 1-613-951-1584.

It is not necessary to send a confirmation copy of orders sent by FAX.

Help us to serve you better and more quickly by using the telephone or facsimile with your VISA or MasterCard.

Purchase in Person

You can purchase publications at any Statistics Canada Regional Reference Centre, at many local bookstores, and from authorized agents' outlets. (Appendix C)

Order Electronically

CAN/OLE users may submit their purchase or interlibrary loan orders for Statistics Canada publications electronically, using CAN/DOC. This system allows users to identify publications of their choice on STATCAN and then purchase the items by completing an online order form. Various methods of payment are indicated on the order form. Statistics Canada items not identified on STATCAN may also be requested.

Payment

All publication orders are payable to the Receiver General for Canada/Publications. Payment may be made by cheque or money order. Clients may also charge orders to their MasterCard or VISA accounts. Canadian clients pay in Canadian funds. Clients from United States and other countries pay in US$ drawn on a US bank.

Prices

Prices listed in the Statistics Canada Catalogue 1990 are subject to change without notice. To check current publication prices, call 1-613-951-7277 or call any Statistics Canada Regional Reference Centre. They will gladly provide information or ordering assistance. Alternatively, you may call 1-800-267-6677 for ordering assistance.

Goods and Services Tax - Canadian Customers

After January 1, 1991, Canadian customers must include the 7% Goods and Services Tax in the amount payable. A space has been provided on the order form.

Discounts

Please refer to Appendicies E and F for information on Statistics Canada discounts and money-saving packages.

APPENDIX E

DISCOUNTS ON STATISTICS CANADA PUBLICATIONS

Please note that discounts are applied to the price of the publication and not to the total amount which might include special shipping and handling charges and the G.S.T.

a) Educational Institutions and Libraries

Schools, school boards, colleges, universities and public libraries receive a 30% discount on all publications. If you're not sure whether your organization qualifies for a discount, call 1-613-951-7277 or your local regional reference centre.

b) Bookstores

Regular bookstores receive a 40% discount on nonsubscription orders and a 30% discount on subscription orders.

c) Authorized Agents

Booksellers and distributors who are Authorized Agents (by Supply and Services Canada) receive a 46% discount on non-subscription orders and a 30% discount on subscription orders.

d) Volume Discounts

Volume discounts are offered on multiple copies of the same publication that are shipped to one address. The schedule of volume discounts follows.

10-25 copies – 20% 26-50 copies – 30% 51-100 copies – 40%

100 or more copies – call our Publication Sales personnel at 1-613-951-8926 to determine the discount that will apply to your order.

e) Back Issue Discounts

A Statistics Canada periodical is designated a back issue when it has been replaced by a more recent issue. Clients are entitled to a 70% discount and Bookstores an 82% discount off the cover price of all back issues.

Periodicals, selected occasionals, and 1981 Census publications are all included in the back issues program. The Daily, Infomat, Survey Methodology and the four most recent editions of Canadian Social Trends, Perspectives on Labour and Income and Health Reports are excluded from the program.

Statistics Canada fills orders for back issues as inventory permits. The minimum order, which must be prepaid, is $20.00. Please contact our Publication Sales personnel at 1-613-951-7277 to confirm price and availability.

f) Canadian Social Trends (11-008E) Discounts

Student – Students can subscribe to Canadian Social Trends at 30% off the regular subscription price of $34.00 in Canada, US$40.00 in the United States and US$48.00 in other countries.

Multiple Subscription – Clients can receive five subscriptions to Canadian Social Trends for the price of three, provided all subscriptions have the same mailing address. This applies to any multiple of the 5 for 3 formula.

THE FEB 21 1991 BEHIND THE NUMBERS

The 1986 Census Data Base collected the numbers on Canadians – but what do they mean to you? The FOCUS ON CANADA Series analyses the issues that emerged from the Census results, in an easy-to-read style.

FOCUS ON CANADA looks at the issues affecting Canada's seniors and its youth, its ethnic and aboriginal communities; its regions in the far north and the industrial south.

And there's much more to keep you informed – and enlightened. Each publication is bilingual, and costs $10 in Canada (US$11 in other countries). Order the full set of 16 for a comprehensive reference tool for home, school or office.

To order, write to Publication Sales, Statistics Canada, Ottawa, Ontario, K1A 0T6.
